

Whiskey's story

Pooler Leeman is 80 years old and has spent his entire working life as a vet, devoted to looking after the welfare of animals, but has now retired from the veterinary practice, after nearly 50 years.

Pooler and his wife like to go for a 4 mile walk every day, and have been taking their neighbour's dog with them, but recently the dog, Whiskey, a 12 year-old chocolate Labrador has found the walk increasingly difficult due to stiff and painful joints.

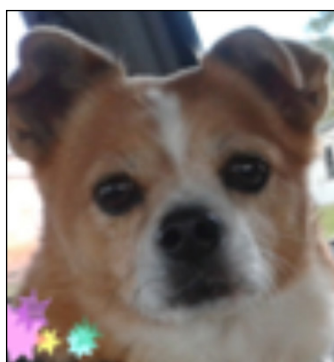

"At first, Whiskey has no problem with the 4 mile walk, bounding along and enjoying the outing. But as the years rolled by, he has not been nearly so mobile, not been eager to come with us and become distressed after only walking about a mile slowly.

"When I left veterinary college all those years ago, we were taught to get to know our diseases and my observation was that he obviously was suffering from degenerative changes in his joints.

Pooler who has been taking Turmeric, an anti-inflammatory food supplement for some years, found CurcuPet-K9, a turmeric product for dogs and decide he would try it for Whiskey. "I decided, that it could make an effective non steroid anti-inflammatory and may help Whiskey and was worth a try to get him back to enjoying his walks again.

After three weeks, the veteran vet, noticed definite improvements in 10 years old Whiskey who was now enjoying his daily walks. "After taking CurcuPet-K9 for three weeks, Whiskey is definitely more active. "He can keep up for two miles now, he moves more freely and can even run along when he wants, the improvement is startling."

Yogi's story

Hello Sam

A little note to give you some feedback on Curcupet-K9. Yogi, a 14 year old male Tibetan Spaniel, has been on the tablets for 5 days, 1 each night in hidden in his food, and already I can see a marked improvement in his mobility and his energy level.

I was informed by the vet that I had to keep him exercised, despite his reluctance and his wonky back legs. We didn't have a morning walk, we had a "drag out and gallop home" ... a bit like those Centennial Park horses for hire. This morning he actually pestered me to go out! He is clearly more mobile, so I presume it is less painful for him. And he is perkier, more like the Yogi of old.

I'm quite surprised that less than one week of the pills can have such an effect. I didn't want to go the cortisone route, with all the side effects inherent in that treatment; I'm so grateful to you for bringing this remedy to the market.

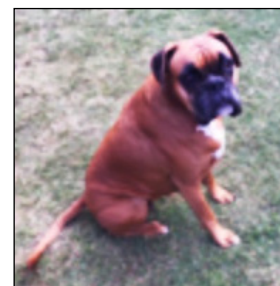

Regards,
Helen B & Yogi

Jan's story

Hi Sam,

Just have to tell you that my girl has been on the tablets for almost 2 weeks now and the difference in her is nothing short of amazing, can not believe how much of a change it has made for her, no more lameness, we are just amazed at what these Curcupet K9 tablets have done for her, can't thank you enough.

Kind regards and many thanks, Jan

Blue's story

Blue has arthritis in her front paws, legs and shoulders.

She is now coming up 12 but was very active when she was younger. As a puppy, she used to chase a ball constantly and took it everywhere with her.

A year ago, we thought they we going to lose her as she was so lame.

Over the past couple of weeks (since starting Curcupet-K9) he would say there is a difference in her as her walking and mobility appears to be a lot better.

We used to take our other two dogs on a separate walk to Blue, as she would get tired and it meant they only took her as far as she could manage. We now take all three dogs out together and can take her for a "decent walk", which she enjoys (as Border Collies are active dogs).

"It is tremendous to see her now. You can see the relief in her face. She now wants to go out with the other two dogs. It's all down to quality of life"

Tammy's story

Hi Sam,

This is the second time I have ordered it. I did an experiment and put her on it and noticed a significant improvement in her ability to get up and down. I have waited to see her pain level without it and she is now back to not being able to get up very well. Whilst she was on it before she was able to climb stairs and get up and get up and down. So it helps her significantly with her movements and her pain level and her ability to get up and down from laying position.
It works a treat.

Kind regards,

Tammy

Brandy's story

I wish it was available years ago!

My dog Brandy has suffered some form of arthritis all of her 14 years. We have taken her to vets who put her on medication. She has always suffered pain in her leg and it was difficult for her to walk.

After reading about your product in the papers I decided to try your product called CurcuPet-K9. After 3 weeks or so we have noticed a vast improvement in her mobility. She still has some pain but she gets around and doesn't favour her affected leg so much.

Thank you for your product.

American Staffy's story

Hi Sam,

Just to give you my opinion on your product, our American Staffy has joint dysplasia in both front and back hip joints. Before going down the path of expensive and debilitating surgery, I thought I would give your product a go. That was about 4 months ago. He now has no limp or any external signs of his joint problems. I personally would recommend this product.

Geordie's story

My 7 year old black and white Spoodle had an operation on his knee and was suffering joint pain. He could not stay on anti inflammatory tablets forever and my husband takes human curcumin so we thought we would give K9 a try. It's been 3 or 4 weeks and Geordie is like a 5 year old again. His 3 year old brother is happy to have his playmate back.
